Allergens/Dietary Restrictions

Allergens

Please notify your server if you have a severe food allergy and they will consult with the kitchen regarding ingredients and safe food handling for your meal. Since our food is homemade and cooked to order, we know what goes into it and can check ingredients for you. Please note that cooks must go through extra steps for allergen safety, so please only use this designation for actual allergies and not for dietary restrictions or preferences (for example having actual celiac disease gluten allergy vs. choosing not to eat wheat products.)

Dietary Restrictions/Preferences

If you are on a restricted eating style such as grain-free, pescatarian or paleo, you can look through our menu and work with your server to prepare a meal that will suit your needs.
